ECE WORKFORCE DATA ECOSYSTEM

Comprehensive workforce registry data is critical to disrupting the cycle of inequities affecting our Early Care and Educators (ECE)- and the children, families, and communities they serve. The ECE workforce is essential for our nation to thrive and excel and registries are core to the professional development systems built to sustain them.

Registry data differs from other sources because it not only illustrates the current characteristics of the workforce but also captures the strong state infrastructure that has been set up to offer professional growth, retention, and recruitment. The data is generated as a byproduct of the career pathway and compensation functions available in the state as illustrated in the workforce data lifecycle on the right.

Only through workforce registries, states can capture rich and representative longitudinal data to ensure investments, applied research, strategies, policies are well-informed and drive equity accountability.
